KINGSTON'S FAMOUS FUR STORE

"FROM HUNTER AND TRAPPER DIRECT TO YOU."

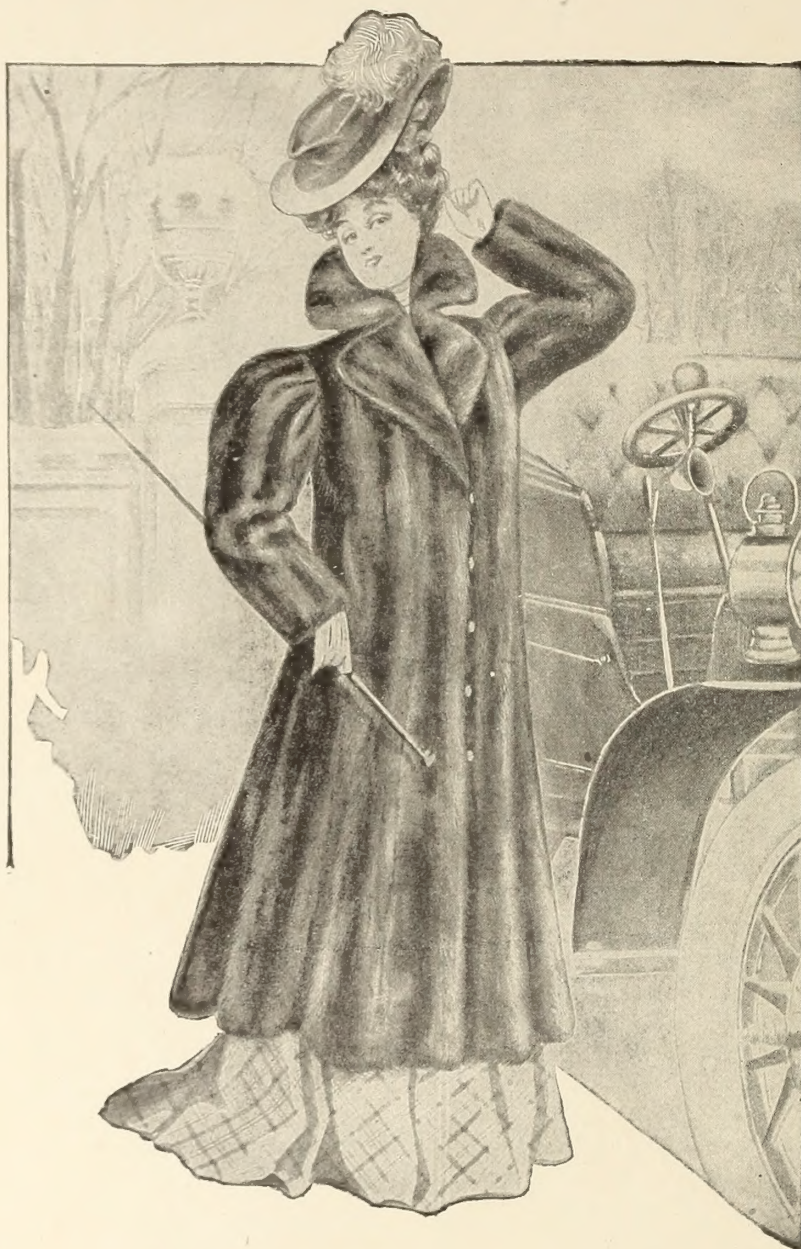

Our new show-rooms are the finest in Ontario. You are cordially invited to come and see them.

It pays to buy furs from experienced furriers, you avoid all risks. We have been established in the fur business here for nearly thirty years.

We make a specialty of fine Canadian Mink Sets.

We make ladies' fine Persian Lamb and Alaska Seal Jackets at less than Montreal wholesale prices.

What "Sterling" means on silver the name "GEORGE MILLS & CO." means on furs, viz: a guarantee of quality.

Ask for one of our new catalogs.

Our AUTO FUR COATS are the acme of perfection. Be sure to see our display.

Hospitable Kingston

"The Limestone City" is an historic spot. "Beautiful for situation!" A veritable nature's hospital. No city in the Dominion is a more welcome retreat for the jaded mind and body than this old town, with its lovely avenues, parks and lake side. Her loyalty, as staunch as the solidity of her foundations, worthily merits her favorite name, "The Limestone City." From the quiet waters of Quinte, shut in from the great lake outside by the long, low-lying shore of Amherst Island—formerly called Isle of Tonti in memory of De la Salle's trusted lieutenant—the gray mass of the ancient city of Kingston is seen crowning the slope of the curving shore; the gateway to the noble St. Lawrence, Thousand Isles, the Bay of Quinte, the Rideau and Upper Ottawa—Canada's picturesque resorts and commercial avenues.

Her history opens with the pompous landing of Count Frontenac, in 1673, and the mutual agreement with the Iroquois Indians to erect Fort Frontenac, ostensibly as a trading port. Then the treachery of Governor Denonville and the consequent capture and destruction of the fort by the incensed Iroquois, and the recalling of Count Frontenac to rebuild it. Later on, the great struggle between John Bull and La Belle France for supremacy in Canada, when the fort was again destroyed, this time by its builders, and not replaced until the next century by the British—all this is a matter of familiar history. To-day Fort Frontenac is the station of the Canadian Artillery. The first English forts are crumbling to decay, whilst the numerous Martello towers, unoccupied, are silent witnesses of an eventful past, among the ancient landmarks of old Cataragui, the name which the brave United Empire Loyalists changed to Kingston.

As an educational centre, Kingston stands pre-eminent. The seat of the Royal Military College (the Canadian Sandhurst). The proud possessor of Queen's University, a magnificent block of imposing architecture, founded in 1840 by the clergy and laity of the Church of Scotland, with its faculties of Art, Science, Medicine, Law, and Divinity, and its schools of Mining and Agriculture. "Queen's," as it is affectionately termed by its sons, has grown with the growth of Canada, has a noble record of work done in the past. With its modern halls with up-to-date facilities, the throng of eager students who fill them, and its largely increased and distinguished staff—it rejoices in its present great usefulness, and has still greater hopes for the future. An up-to-date dairy school covers an area of three thousand square feet; 150 pupils, filling every class, took a course at the opening in the winter of 1906. The Collegiate Institute represents two older High Schools, and among the schoolboys educated in them, Kingston boasted the Premiers of the Dominion and Province, Sir John Macdonald and Sir Oliver Mowat, besides Sir Alex. Campbell, Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Henry Smith, and Hon. Geo. A. Kirkpatrick. Two good business colleges, the Kingston and the Frontenac, are largely attended. Its twelve public and separate schools are conceded to be among the best in the Province.

The public institutions include the Provincial Penitentiary, accommodating 500 persons, the best of its class. Rockwood Hospital for the Insane, 750 inmates; in the front rank for equipment and efficiency of modern humane institutions. L'Hotel Dieu, the Roman Catholic hospital. The House of Industry for the aged and destitute, the House of Providence, sheltering about 200 old and young, an Orphans' Home caring for an average of 50 children, and an Infants' Home for twenty or thirty homeless little ones. In addition to these are several national charitable societies, besides poor relief associations, and a score of fraternal lodges. A dozen sporting clubs of no mean order, not including those pertaining to churches, colleges and schools. Kingston's churches, consisting of two cathedrals, St. George's and St. Mary's, and about twenty denominational edifices, hold their own in the field of architecture. Old Kingston is not only a lively damsel, but she has a large heart for charities and education. No city of its size in America, it can with all modesty be claimed, sustains so many excellent institutions. The Municipal Buildings rank among the finest on the continent, of the same age. The City Hall, previous to a fire in 1865, contained a handsome extension to King street, of which Wolfe Island Market was the only small portion replaced. The Post Office, prior to its present imposing home, rented space here. The Court House of plain cut stone, is architecturally uncommonly beautiful. The commodious offices of city and county officials are all that can be desired.

The military forces are composed of Battery A., Canadian Artillery and Royal School of Gunnery, occupying Tete Du Pont Barracks, Forts Henry and Frederick. The 14th Regiment Volunteer Rifles, the Kingston Field Battery, and the Kingston troop of Huzzars. The extensive Armouries, the scene of the "Made in Canada" Exhibition, speaks for itself.

The city's industries, although taking a secondary place, play an important part, directly or indirectly, in contributing to the success of the exhibition. First and foremost is the Canadian Locomotive Works, Ltd., employing about six hundred hands. Hard by is the Kingston Foundry and the Hosiery Mills, the Cereal Works, Cotton Mill, four large grain elevators, the Kingston Milling Co., several large forwarding companies, a saw mill, and a sash and door factory; vinegar, broom, and cigar factories. A tannery, carriage, piano, and furniture factories, a biscuit factory and a brewery. Several large and thriving banking concerns, housed in imposing buildings, serve the foregoing hives of industry. The Government Dry Dock, accommodating the largest boat on the lakes, cost $750,000. As a ship-building port, Kingston has been constructing boats, yachts and various craft since the days of Frontenac. The city also boasts of two fully equipped fire stations, the like of which would be difficult to excel anywhere in Canada. An important feature in the city's life, and one of the mightiest and most prevalent social, political and business forces of the day, are the newspapers. Three of them, the Daily British Whig, The Kingston News, and the Canadian Freeman, accelerate the general welfare of the community, and command the respect and patronage of all live citizens.

Last but not least is the Kingston General Hospital, the servant of all! It is situated on Stuart street and cost $19,000, besides a laundry at $4,000, and a large and commodious Nurses' Home. From the schoolboy to the professor, from the apprentice to the captain of industry, this noble institution ministers unsparingly to all. Regardless of creed, race, or color; the skill of the physician, and the tender care of the nurses, all the acquirement of long years of study and hard work, is administered to suffering humanity with untiring devotion. Is any object more worthy of practical help and sympathy than that which seeks to alleviate the sufferings of our fellow mortals? Once admitted your presence and your pocket-book will accomplish the purpose of the

TO OUR FRIENDS

The Woman's Aid Society of the Kingston General Hospital and Committee of Management of the "Made and Produced in Canada" Fair, take this opportunity of thanking the manufacturers of Canada and the merchants of Kingston, who have so generously responded to the invitations sent them for exhibits and donations of both goods and cash, in aid of the funds of our General Hospital.

They also desire to thank the ladies of Kingston who have so kindly responded with donations of work, money, and home-made articles.

They wish also to express their appreciation for the generous manner in which the farmers and dairy-men in the vicinity of Kingston responded. Their willing help has brought about so great a success of the "Farmers' and Dairymen's" booth.

Great praise is due to all the willing workers for their splendid co-operation and in proving themselves of such able assistance in their constant effort to bring the termination of this undertaking to an assured success, which will enable them to so handsomely assist the necessities of our Hospital.

They wish to thank all and every one who have in any way contributed to this good cause, and it would give them much pleasure to be able to thank such people personally, but this being impossible they therefore, again here, tender these people, on behalf of this committee and the Kingston General Hospital, their warmest thanks.

The members of the Programme Committee desire to express their best thanks to all with whom they have communicated, for their courteous replies, good wishes and generous support to their appeals for advertisements in this programme. Much appreciation is also felt towards the Whig Publishing Co. for the special price which they tendered and which brought the issuing of this programme in its attractive style within the financial reach of this committee.

INDIAN BOOTH.

Welcome all ye wise men and Sachems,
Welcome to the lodges of the Mohawks.
Far-famed are they for the manufacture
Of Indian baskets, leather goods and sparkling bead-work.
Of their best they offer you in exchange for your Canadian silver.
Princesses, daughters of the great chiefs
Wait to tell you of your future,
Of the great things that lie before you:
What to buy, to sell, and whom to marry.

Unfailing is their advice and welcome—
It will be well to profit by it.
For five cents you may— from strong boxes of hickory—let fly three arrows
At a goal that's set before them;
Harmless are they and amusing,
And suitable for both brave and papoose.
Come to the camp-fires of the Mohawks;
Get your baskets, leather and bead work;
Hear your fortune and shoot the arrows.
Welcome to the lodges of the first Canadians.

Conveners—Mrs. Hugh Macpherson, Mrs. J. C. Carson, Mrs. Webster.

Twenty Years Experience

FOR twenty years I have represented The Mutual Life of Canada, and I am more convinced now than ever that I represent the best company in this country, and am proud of the excellent showing this Company made before the Commissioners in the recent insurance investigation. No fault could be found with it. It was clearly shown to be the most economically managed Company in the Dominion. Those who expect to insure should bear this in mind. : : : : : : : : : : :

TWENTY-FIVE CENT TABLE

Under the direction of Mrs. James A. Hendry and Mrs. Francis King.

Here will be quartered merchandise from all four quarters of Canada; and here will take place a Slaughter Sale with "NO QUARTER" as the watch-word, and "ONE QUARTER" as the universal price.

There will be no limitation upon the character and quality of the commodities purchasable here, except the limitation of price, and for twenty-five cents you may BUY THE MOON, even to its "Last Quarter"—or at least some substitute warranted just as good.

For this small sum you may select at will from a marvellous collection of products of the field, the forest and the factory; the paint-brush, the printing press, and the pen. Anything from a necklace to a needle; from the Yukon to Cape Breton; from A to Z.

BROBDINGNAGIAN BARGAINS AT A LILLIPUTIAN PRICE!

At this booth, Aladdins lamp itself will sell for a quarter, for that magic coin will at once command any article desired. The mines have been searched, the forests hunted, the marts of the Dominion ransacked, to provide for each possible slightest wish. Here you may spend a pleasant quarter of an hour and as many quarters of a dollar as you desire. Here you may get a new lease of life!—By the quarter.

N.B.—If you do not see what you want, ask for it. If you do not want what you see, buy it anyway. It will only cost a quarter.

Why "ORANGE MEAT" is a Food

Nearly 50 per cent. of ORANGE MEAT is Wheat Sugars, the most easily digested and assimilated part of Cereals. Note the following analysis made by Dr. J. Waddell, B.A., D.Sc., Ph.D., Professor of Chemistry at the School of Mining, Queen's University, Kingston:

|                              |               |       |
|------------------------------|---------------|-------|
| Sample No. 23.....           | Total Soluble | 52.08 |
| Maltose . . . . .            |               | 29.68 |
| Dextrine . . . . .           |               | 20.   |
| <hr/>                        |               |       |
| Total Wheat Sugars . . . . . |               | 49.68 |
| Sample No. 24 . . . . .      | Total Soluble | 54.90 |
| Maltose . . . . .            |               | 30.74 |
| Dextrine . . . . .           |               | 20.01 |
| <hr/>                        |               |       |
| Total Wheat Sugars . . . . . |               | 50.75 |

PROOF OF THE VALUE OF ORANGE MEAT:—Prof. Harcourt, of Guelph Agricultural College, by a long series of digestion experiments with the human subject, and taking all the necessary precautions to insure accuracy, determined as follows:—

PERCENTAGE OF THE CONSTITUENTS DIGESTED.

|                              | Organicmatter. | Caloriesper gram. |
|------------------------------|--------------------|-----------------------|
| ORANGE MEAT . . . . .        | 93.4               | 3.733                 |
| White Bread . . . . .        | 98.1               | 2.468                 |
| Entire White Bread . . . . . | 94.8               | 2.256                 |
| Graham Bread . . . . .       | 92.5               | 2.296                 |

This proves the superiority of ORANGE MEAT as compared with bread, and according to his determination is 50 per cent. more valuable as a food.

MILK, WHICH IS A PERFECT FOOD, TAKEN EVERY MORNING AND EVENING IN CONJUNCTION WITH ORANGE MEAT, WILL PROVIDE THE MOST PERFECT AND EVENLY BALANCED FOOD THAT THE HUMAN SUBJECT CAN SECURE.

FARM PRODUCTS

This booth is unique in owing its great success almost entirely to the generosity of friends residing outside of the city. Here dairy maids and matrons, daintily gowned in white with blue aprons and sun-bonnets, will serve you with all the products of the farm.

Buttermilk is churned on the spot by the sturdy young sons of the soil, dressed in their work-a-day clothes.

The decorations of this booth are entirely in keeping with its character, being mainly cornstalks, grasses and grains of various kinds.

Mrs. F. Welch and Mrs. W. J. Robinson are in charge, very ably assisted by:

St. George's Baking Powder

Made in Canada

By a Canadian firm, from absolutely pure ingredients, imported expressly for the purpose, all the moisture being driven out—the powder under any and all weather conditions, and is “concentrated” so that one teaspoonful will go as far as three or four of the ordinary kind. Get Free Sample at the Booth and test it yourself, and you will become one of its permanent users.
